In addition to the oratorio, there will be a classical concert, in which Mr. Cooper will perform the two ast movements of Mendelssohn's celebrated vio work ever written for the king of instruments, and one which tests the legitimate capabilities of the artist to the utmost. He will, in addition, accompany Miss Milner in an air with variations and execute a solo of his own composition on one string only-the fourth. Let all those who desire to foster and support true merit be present or this interesting occasion, and we prophecy that they will not regret the visit. A diagram of the hall may be seen at Fauld's music store, where places can be secured without extra charge. This s a great advantage, as ladies are sure to obtain good seats, and avoid the tedium of waiting an our for the commencement of the performance. Those who have not availed themselves of this privilege, should do so at once. We noticed Saturday, in passing the show vindows of Messrs. Hegan & Escott, quite a crowd engaged in viewing the beautiful works of art herein exhibited, the main feature of which was oil photographs of two of our most prominent young fellow townsmen; they are certainly the most perfect paintings both in regard to likeness and style of finish, we have ever seen. Passing further up street, we saw another of the same style of pictures, in the window of Messrs. Michot & Bro.'s, the latter being an exquisite like ness of the Hon. John Joyes. Upon enquiry, we found they were executed at the Beehive Gallery, Main Street, between Third and Fourth, where we would recommend all in want of fine portraits to

Could there then, we appeal to all fair and candid men, have been inflicted upon the freemen of the First ward, a greater outrage; an outrage that was intended and designed to disfranchise them? This is Know Nothingism in its rom the polls, for it is well known that a large portion of this ward is composed of our natural zed fellow-citizens. But a kindred wrong was inflicted upon the Democracy of the city in the unjust and unfair division of the officers of the election. The first division made by the General Council of the city was so unjust and illegal as to disgust the Opposition themselves, and popular clainer compelled naturalized citizen from holding any office of

"honor or profit," but this outrage excludes him

them to recede from it. The law said that the officers of the election should be equally divided between the two opposing parties. Nothing could be plainer than this. A wayfaring man, though a Gilliss, could understand this. But, with a total disregard of the law, they gave one officer out of the four to the Democrats and three to the Opposition. But the highminded and honorable men of the Opposition revolted at this, and they receded. But the second outrage was almost equal to the first. The law

[For the Louisville Courier.] Democratic Meeting in Jefferson.

At a meeting of the Democrats held in Jeffersontown, Jefferson county, on the 26th of March, on motion, Tramel Conn, Esq., was called to the chair, and J. B. Bell appointed secretary.

On motion of J. B. Bell, the following committee was appointed to draft resolutions: H. Dent, Thos. J. Read, James Gilliland, John Burks, and L. L. Dorsey, Jr., who reported the following resolutions:

Resolved—1. That we cordially endorse the action and approve the nominees of the 8th of January Convention, and that we ple ige ourselves to labor faithfully to secure the election of said ticket.

2. That we have an abiding faith in the principles of the Democratic party—ap rty whose unconquered legions, a ded by the gallant and patrictic Gid Line Whigs, in 1856, overthrew the combined hosts of Abolitionists and Know Nothings, and thereby preserved the Constitution and the Union.

3. That as "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty," it is the duty of the National Democracy to be unceasing in their efforts to crush out of existence the so called "Opposition" party, the leaders of which have openly sought, and are now seeking, an alliance with the detected "negro-worshippers" and "freedom-shriekers" of Execution of Three Murderers.

[From the N. O. Picayune, March 18.] This morning, Heinrich Haas, Joseph Lindsay and Peter Smith, all three convicted of murder, suffered the penalty of death by hanging. At an early hour a large crowd besieged the gates of the Parish Prison, eagerly seeking to obtain a sight of the terrible spectacle. This morbid craving was not, however, satisfied, and none could obtain admittance without an order from the Sheriff.—About one hundred and fifty persons, including nelicomen officials etc. were let in the inner yard, where the gallows had been erected.

The dreaded machine was very simple pearance; at the end of the first story stood a small platform, or trap door, fixed to the wall by hinges, and suspended by two ropes which passed overhead through the great window of the cell behind A rough bench to seat three persons, was secured to the platform Above, three beams, set at about eighteen inches listant, protruded from the wall, ron rings at their ends, dangled the three ropes erminating with the fatal noose. Shortly after ten o'clock the three condemned men appeared, escorted by the Rev. Father Dufau and his assistant, and officers of the prison. They were dressed in white, in their shirts and pants, the head covered with a white night cap, and thei hands tied behind their backs; each wore a cru-cifix suspended to a black ribbon around his neck. Their countenances were calm, even smiling. They took their seat on the fatal bench, and the hangman, a negro, disguised with a loss black domino and a mask, fixed the ropes around their necks, and disappeared in the cell behind.

The Deputy Sheriff having read, with a voice halted by a voice that a sea of the season of the oked by emotion, the death warrant signed by the Governor, Lindsay, who is quite a young man, first spoke and addressed the crowd with a clear and ringing voice. He acknowledged his crime, said the penalty was but just; he had sinned begged the crowd to forgive him also; he thanked Capt. Fremeaux, Mr. Revoil, and the under keep-ers of the prison, for their kindness to him; he bid every one good-bye, and hoped his example would not be lost.

Peter Smith spoke next, in nearly the same terms, but struggling with his emotion. Heinrich Haas, the oldest man of the three, was the last to speak. His features were lit with a spiritual enpeak. His features were lit with a spiritual en-nusiasm, as in a loud and clear voice, he addressed the attentive crowd. He said that drink was not the only incentive to crime, that every sinful appetite indulged in brought man by degrees to the worst crimes, and finally to the gallows. His ruin was caused by the sin of impurity; he warned all men to restrain and subdue their passions and not to deface the image of God. He was going to die of an awful death, and yet that death was not one thousand part what his crimes deserved. He was a great sinner, but as great as were his crimes, the goodness and mercy of his Saviour were greater, and that Saviour had pardoned him.—

He died with joy, he was happy, and preferred that death to life on this earth. He spoke long and feelingly, and after bidding farewell to the people, began chaunting a hymn with much fer-vor. While he spoke and sung, his two companvor. While he spoke and sung, his two companions seemed to find new courage in his enthusiastic words, and preserved a perfect composure.

The Rev. Father Dufau spoke a few parting words to each, and presented them the crucifix, which they kissed repeatedly. Young Lindsay burst out in an act of contrition, repeated by the

Another fare-well from the three unfortunates, to their friends, a silent pause, and suddenly the trap door fell from beneath their feet, and three souls were Lindsay and Smith died instantly, having nad their necks broken, and a slight quiver of the frame was all that denotad the passage from life to death; but poor Haas suffered longer; the noose had not been made tight enough, and strangulation took place slowly. His legs moved convulsively, his whole frame shook, and the blood rushed into his face, soon blackened it and trickled out of his ear. We left the poor man still struggling—a sight too painful to behold.

NUMBER 74. The Arrival of Italian Refugees in Cork-Interesting Particulars

We announced the arrival in Queenstown, on Sunday, March 6, of the American ship

We announced the arrival in Queenatown, on Sunday, March 6, of the American ship David Stewart, having on board Poerio and his companions, whom the Neapolitan Government had set free from the dungeons of that State. It will be remembered that, though pardoned, they were sentenced to banishment, and that after having been deported from their native country to Spain, it was afterwards determined that they should be sent to America. Accordingly, the David Stewart was chartered to take them from Cadiz to New York, where, upon landing, each was to receive a sum of $120, and be released from all further control. They had been brought from Naples to Cadiz in a Neapolitan transport, from which, after about three weeks, they were put on board the David Stewart. From the Cork put on board the David Stewart. From the Cork Examiner we copy the following particulars: "All the party having been put on board at Cadiz, the Daniel Stewart was towed out to sea for a dis tance of nearly 200 miles, by a Neapolitan war steamer. The steamer then cast off, and left the steamer. The steamer then cast off, and left the ship with a fair wind from the east. Scarcely, however, was the ship well away from the protection of the steamer's guns, than the exiles, in a body, came to the captain, delivered to him a protest against being carried to New York, and called upon him to make for the first port he could reach in England. The captain, one-third of whose freight had been retained as a guarantee for the performance of his contract, remonstrated with their demand to have him break his engagement, and ultimately refused. They appeared to acquiesce in his decision, or, at least, pressed their demand no further that evening; but the next morning it was again renewed, and in a more decided and threatening manner. A young Italian, The Hon. Geo. W. Jones, of Tenn., who has served 18 years in Congress, has declined becomnext morning it was again renewed, and in a more decided and threatening manner. A yeung Italian, named Raffaelli Settembrini, had shipped with the captain in Cadiz, and signed articles as a seaman. Up to that morning he had done his work with the rest of the crew. But when the assemblage waited upon the captain, he made his appearance in the uniform of a mate of one of the Galway line of steamers—a handsome blue frock, with cilt buttons, gold can hand ste. This needs, Galway line of steamers—a handsome blue frock, with gilt buttons, gold cap band, etc. This position he really had held; but it turned out he was the son of Luigi Settembrini, who hearing of his father's conditional pardon, and of his destination, left for Spain, and resorted to the russ we have mentioned to join him. The captain of the ship believes that he was dispatched by the Italian Society of London to aid the prisoners in the course they subsequently took. The exiles stated that they had a navigator in their party, and that even if they had to take the ship out of the hands of the captain and crew, they would be able to sail her without their assistance. They represented to the captain that sistance. They represented to the captain that they had been two months at sea, many of them being old, and all with constitutions more or less enfeebled by an imprisonment of ten years, so that a long voyage would be torture to them all, and death, perhaps, to some. They contended, also, that, being under the American flag, they were free, and that they had no right to be taken anywhere but where they chose. These arguments, backed up by the preponderance of physical force, the exiles being sixty-six, while the crew was but seventeen, and the manifest determination of the former to resort to extremities to carry out their intention, compelled the captain to yield, and turn the vessel's head northward. They were temperate and polite in manner, but about their determination, there could be no mistake. They set a guard of threes or fours in turn, to keep watch over the compass, and see that the ship's head was kept in the direction of the haven they looked for. The weather was bafing and the passage was tedious. The captain in tended making for Cork, but missed the harbor in a fog, and had got as far as Ballycotton, but having fallen in with a Cork pilot, beat back again, so that at length, after a voyage of 14 days, the ship anchored in the man-of-war roads. As fast as possible, the whole band got themselves conversed whore to Queenstown, and testified in the eyed ashore to Queenstown, and testified in the most lively manner their joy at being at last as-sured of freedom. The enthusiasm of some rose to such a pitch that they actually kissed the soil > gray; dut, as lar as we are able to judge, there was not in their appearance anything to indicate their having endured peculiar hardships. During the voyage, Poerio, whose health has been greatly enfeebled, used to get out of bed, and sit on deck for a couple of hours daily. On his arrival at Queenstown he caused himself to be removed to a private lodging. In appearance he is short, thicknessed and rather good-looking. His age; is fifty-five. set, and rather good-looking. His age is fifty-five. but his looks would indicate that he is somewhat older. He now speaks but a few words of English, tho ugh it is said he at one time knew the language well. The want of exercise in speaking or reading it, during the period of his long impresument, has almost antically obliterated it. or reading it, during the period of his long prisonment, has almost entirely obliterated from his memory. The young sailor to whom we have already alluded is of very prepossessing appearance. We have not learned the ultimate intention of this band of exiles, but it is very probable the great majority of them will go Italy, seeking refuge in the Sardinian Kin Under any circumstances, Poerio will, we be go to Sardinia."

SHAMEFUL.—Some months ago a fraudulent SHAMEPUL.—Some months ago a fraudulent marriage ceremony was performed in this city by a sham Justice of the Peace, who had no legal authority, at all, to solemnize marriages. The woman in the case was persuaded to submit to the ceremony by the person whom she supposed she was legally marrying. There were no witnesses present at the ceremony, and the officiating person is unknown to the ruined woman. The perpetrators of such an outrage should be punished to the full extent of the law. LOUISVILLE: ... MARCH 28, 1859. MONDAY.

Reading Matter on Every Page.

The Opposition-What is it? Those who imagine that the present Opposi-tion party is a new thing under the sun are vastly mistaken. It is as old as the Democratic first appearance down to the present time, and to note all its gyrations, and to index the innumerable names which it has assumed, disgraced and discarded. Suffice it to say, that the Opposition in the last fifty years has presented itself in every variety of names known in political omenclature. It is destructive of names, very, The first which it appropriated and disgraced was that of Federalist. Federalist, in the days of Washington, was the honorable title of a true patriot. The Opposition seeing its success and feeling its potency, appropriated it at the earliest possible moment. Before it had been in their possession long, the name of Federalist became a reproach, and a synonym of traitor. Until this day, that old and once honored appellation has not recovered from the disgrace attached to it, by its association with the "Opposition." After they had made the name of "Federalist" a bye word, and a disgrace, they appropriated every respectable name, until they exhausted the entire calendar, and now as a last resort they are banded together under the general term "Opposition.

Opposition to what? Why to the Democracy, and, of course, opposition to the principles of the Democratic party. They are, then, opposed to the rights of the States; to the rights of the South; to the doctrine of non-intervention, and, in short to every thing advocated by the National Demoeratic party. Afraid to enunciate any principles of their own, they content themselves with growling at ours. It is a principle of the common law. that when a man pleads in abatement to a writ, that he shall furnish a better. What sort of a were they held to this rule? They believe that ouls, they cannot suggest a better form of gov-

ble result of a well constituted government.— Nothing can be made without leaving more or less waste material. Gold cannot be melted without eaving more or less dross; and governments caunot be formed without leaving more or less intractable element which makes very good Opposition. Look at the present Opposition party! What are its component parts? Does it not consist of fragments and odds and ends? Most certainly it does. Where are all the old broken down are all the disappointed office seekers? In the Opposition party. Where are the discontented and ill-used men who would ruin because they cannot rule? Where should they be but in the Opposition party? The thing new only in name, being composed of the oldest possible materials. It is like a snake which changes its skin every year, only it has been skinned so often by the Democracy that this year it appears without any skin at all. In its ranks you will find a great variety of men, with a great variety of talents, all of whom should be Presidents, and would be, but for the ruel lack of appreciation on the part of the people pots, who are always discovering some awful lic. They are eternally seeing some grim political Blue Beard, who is just ready to chop off the head of this great country, and they pitch their piping notes of warning on their highest key But their manifold failures do not seem to dampen warning shriek, no matter in what garb they appear. Whether as Federalists, Republicans, Whigs Americans, Know Nothings, or Oppositionists' they never relax their patriotic squalls. One moment you shall hear them screaming about for. eign influence, then about Democratic extrava gance, then about the Pope, then about Americans ruling America, and always about the Democratic Administration. This last is a theme which never fails them, and God grant

Kentucky and the Next Presidency. The press of Kentucky has spoken with si ngu ar unanimity in favor of the nomination of Hon. doing, it has, we have every reason to believe, but re-echoed the voice of the Democratic masses .-There is no doubt but the popular heart beats responsive to the suggestion of the name of this pure and able statesman in connection with that high office, and the spontaneous movement in his favor in Kentucky, is warmly seconded in other States. Many of the best and most sagacious men and politicians in the nation believe that Mr. Guthrie combines elements of strength and popu arity in his person not equalled by any other pro ninent man in the Union, and that such is the onfidence of the whole people in his integrity, ability, and firmness, that if nominated by the Charleston Convention, the ticket which he heads would be irresistible. While it must be conceded that this is the feel ing which has been produced by the mention of Mr. Guthrie's name, we regret to see that an attempt is made to weaken his position by the inroduction of Hon. Jno. C. Breckinridge's name in connection with the same office. We regret it because Kentucky should be a unit in the expression of her preference, and because we believe that her wishes, vigorously enforced, would command great weight and influence in the Charles-The Kentucky State Flag, a paper for whose opinions and views we have the highest respect, seems, in its last issue, to deprecate the expression of preference for Guthrie as unjust to Mr. Breckinridge, and regards it as an attempt "to horn off" that gentleman. Now, we presume that Mr. Breckinridge has not a more sincere riend or a more ardent admirer in the State tha clared most decidedly and emphatically that he did not wish his name to go before the Charleston convention. We know that such was his position even before Mr. Gathrie's name had been placed before the public, and we know that he has expressed the same feelings within the last month.

This laughable peculiarity has been forcibly illustrated for the last few weeks by the New York illustrated papers. They have used the Sickles-Key affair entirely up. DREADFUL SHIPWRECKS .- The bark Dromhair rom Quebec, for Greenock, Scotland, laden with number, having perished by starvation. They were twenty-one days on the wreck, with an allowance of half a buscuit a day, and what water they could catch from the rain. The ship Bengal, from St. Pierre, Martinique, bound to Bordeaux, France, became water-logged and unmanageable by a storm which struck her on the 2d of February and lasted nine days. They were taken from the wreck by Cart. Plumber of the bark Tenere. and deprived the crew of food, water and lowing Certificate of a cure of overviewing ing:

H. T. Helmold — Dear Sir: I have been troubled with an affliction of the Bladder and Kidneys for over twenty years. I have tried Physicians in vain, and at last concluded to give your Genuine Preparation a trial, as I had heard it highly spoken of. It afforded me immediate relief. I have used three bottles, and I have obtained more relief from its effects, and feel much better than I have for twenty years previous. I have the greatest faith in its virtues and curative powers, and shall do all in my power to make it known to the afflicted. Hoping that this may prove advantageous to you in assisting you to introduce the medicine.

I am truly yours,

Lewistown, Pa., Jan. 29, 1857.

GROVER & BAKER'S CELEBRATED FAMILY SEWING MACHINES 495 Broadway, New York.

As, then, Mr. Breckinridge is not a candidate for the Presidency, and does not wish his name submitted to the Charleston Convention, it seems to us that the Flag has no right to regard the advocacy of Mr. Guthrie's claims by the press of the State as "horning him off" or interfering with Mr. Breckinridge in any way.

HIS Machine sews from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread; it thems, rells, Gathers, and Stutches in a saperior style, similaring each seam by its own operation, without recourse to the hand-needle, as is required by other machines. It will do better and cheaper sewing than a seamstress can, even if she works for one cent an hour.

THE VESPER GAS AIR LIGHT.

The Cheapest, most Brilliant, and most Convenie Artificial Light in the World. The Cheapest, most Brilliant, and most Convenient Artificial Light in the World.

THE Vesper Gas Light has won for itself a reputation for elegance, economy, safety and simplicity, far beyond any other artificial light. The Vesper Gas flame and fixtures precisely resemble in form those of coal gas; but in brilliancy and purity of light, it possesses a decided advantage over even Louisville coal gas. It requires no chimney; there is no need of daily trimming of wick; and the construction of the fixtures is so simple that it is not liable to get out of order, and a child can manage it readily. The gas burnt in the Vesper fixtures is generated from pure coal oil, without any admixture of alcohol or other foreign ingredient. It is entirely free from odor while burning, as, by a simple contrivance, the vapor of the oil is mixed with the atmosphere, producing perfect combustion and a most intense light. The light has been pronounced, by those who have had it in constant use for months, as most pleasant to the eye while reading or sewing, the rebeing no flickering or unsteadiness in the flame. The Vesper Gas light is portable, and can be used in town or country—in fact, wherever artificial light is required. The fixtures themselves are adapted in styles to suit all tastes, from the plain single light burner to the most costly chandelier. Each chandelier is perfect in itself; there is no outlay to be made for service pipes. They are sold at prices which do not exceed the cost of ordinary gas fixtures of similar styles and ornamentation. A price list will be sent to any address on application.

MERCHANTS MERCHANTS

visiting Louisville should not fail to procure the Vesper Gas fixtures for their stores.

CHURCHES, HOTELS, PUBLIC HALLS AND PRIVATE RESIDENCES

throughout the State can now be fitted up with those elegant and convenient chandellers, and other beautiful gas fixtures, which add so much to the appearance of such places, and to the comfort of the home circle, and which, heretofore, could be used only in those favored districts embraced within the coal gas limits of large cities.

The limited space of an advertisement precludes the insertion here of the numerous testimonials of approval we have received from all quarters. Suffice it to say, scientific men and others who have examined and thoroughly tested the merits of the Vesper Gas light, pronounce it the best and cheapest artificial light now known.

Rheumatic, and Neuraigic Anections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on scrictly scientific principles after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Borhave. Because of its great success in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

34t is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

NOTICE—Whoever expects to find this a beverage will be disappointed, but to the sick, weak and low spirited, it will prove a greatful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties.

CAUTION! The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Borhave's Holland Bitters s fair trial. One bottle will convince how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

at the London Exhibition of 1851, Mr. Frodsham's contribution was noticed as bearing the stamp of peculiar merit, and being the flower of the English school—In recognition of the excellence of the principle of his time keepers, the British Government has awarded Mr. Frodsham the sum of £3,170.

Mr. Frodsham, after a great number of experiments came to the conclusion that the only way to improve the watch was by adopting the proportions of the Marine Chronometer, its tests and adjustments,—this Mr. Frodsham has dene in the watches of the New Series, and has found that with strictly chronometrical proportions they are quite at variance with many of those of the best modern construction. Experience proves the New Series Watches to be stronger, more powerful, and more accurate than any heretofore produced.

The manipulation or mechanical excellence of finish of the work, each Watch being a model of perfection. The final adjustments of Compensation, Isochronism, and Positions,—whereby neither extremes of temperature, violent exercise, nor change of place, have any appreciable disturbing effect.

As a pecuriar advantage, there is no danger of stopping under the most violent motion, either in the cars, on horseback, or in any vehicle.

In over one hundred instances these watches have stood the test of actual daily noting, and have exhibited as a result, a ratie equal in regularity to the best Marine Chronometers. In several instances, their performance at sea has been superior to the Chronometer.

To those who reside on the line of railroads, or whose avocations taking them frequently in the cars, make a perfect timekeeper less of a luxury than a necessity, these Watches are recommended with the most complete confldence.

Wm. Brown, Esq., a distinguished engineer of Ohio, writes of these watches: "Finally, from what I have mown of Frodsham's Watches, I am strongly impressed with the idea that they are a decided improvement on all other time-pieces, and were they set in gimbals, and used with some care, I think their performance would equal that of Mr. Frodsham's celebrated Box Chronomeer, and would answer the same purpose for determining

Poland Butting the Bank—Upper Works
SMASHED.—We learn from the officers of the John Gault, which arrived yesterday, that the Poland, bound up Wabash, ran into the bank, and among the trees, at Little Blue river island, Friday night. She probably took a sheer on the pilot. The upper works were considerably damaged, the chimneys smashed, guards crushed, and the casing of one of the chimneys hanging to the limb of a tree, as a sort of landmark, to show she had a tree, as a sort of landmark, to show she had tried to go through by the overland route. She was under way, going ahead, when the Gault met her, having the standing stumps of her chimneys, and damages repaired. BOATMAN DROWNED.—Saturday night, just after the Die Vernon (for St. Louis) had left the wharf, one of her crew, or a deck passenger, possibly, fell overboard and was drowned. He made the most desperate efforts to swim, but was so much frightened that he lost all presence of mind, and sunk alongside of the Admiral. His screams were tly heard on the river for nearly ten min utes, and the officers of the Die Vernon promptly lowered the yawl to save him, but amid the dark-ness and confusion which ensued, the crew, unfortunately, pulled the boat from the drowning man instead of towards him, and before they could get it round in the right direction, the poor fellow atterly exhausted and sunk to rise no more. He disappeared just as the hand to save him was extended. To J. S. Woolfelk, the accomplished clerk

The Mississppi, at St. Louis, Saturday, had riser few inches, and from the officers of the McLellan, from Memphis, we learn that the lower river at that point, Thursday evening, was nearly at a stand, or fulling slowly, but at Hickman it had again commenced rising, with a rise in that river, and the lower Ohio as far as Evansville.— From Evansville up, it was falling fast. At Paducah, the Ohio was within 5 feet of the last rise, with high water in the Tennessee, and 12 eet on the shoals in the Cumberland, when th ohn Gault came out last Thursday.

of the Mississippi will keep the lower river at flood height for some time, which together with the many crevasses, will prove very disastrous to ance Company by some malicious standerers of our city.

Money Market.

[From the Chicago Daily Free Press and Tribune, Feb. 12th, 1859.]

The Peoria Marine and Fire Insurance Company.—It is with pride and pleasure that we ask the attention of our readers to the statement of this company in our columns this morning. It is the first detailed exhibit of the condition of any home company that we have ever seen, and compares most favorably with the statements of the best Eastern companies. Such an array of assets, amounting in all to $352,556 24, skows most conclusively that we have a company in our own State, as sound and as well managed as any other, no matter where located. As it regards its promptness and liberality in the settlement of its losses, no company has a better reputation. The Peorla Company is doing business in most of the Western and Southern States, including Wisconsin, Michigan, Indiana, Missouri and Kentucky, where it is obliged to file an annual statement of its condition and to comply with the same laws that are required of all Eastern companies. The fact that the company can comply with the laws of those States, which are regarded as very onerous by many companies, shows that it has the necessary capital, and as available assets as any other company, being subjected to the same provisions.

The Officers and Directors of this company are men of CINCINNATI, March 26-P. M. Money tight. Exchange firm and in good demand; premium for Eastern. New Orleans, March 26-P. M. Exchange on New York advanced 1/4, at par, to 1/4
